Industrial park land annexation requested

The board of trustees of the West Ohio Conference of the United Methodist Church has requested annexation of more than 20 acres of land to the city of Washington C.H.

The land, located in the Washington C.H. Industrial Park, is adjacent to the Landmark Feed plant, just off Old Chillicothe Road, and bordering the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The property is presently vacant, and no buildings would be involved in the annexation.

A public hearing has been scheduled in the office of the Fayette County Board of Commissioners for 1:30 p.m. today. Washington C.H. attorney Gary D. Smith will represent the church conference during the proceedings. Smith stated that the conference that the county commissioners sup-

Tom Mark and George Winkle of the Community Improvement Corporation are also expected to attend the annexation hearing. The CIC has been the motivating force to the development of the city's Industrial Park and is interested in the outcome of the proposed annexation because of the location of the property.

Before annexation can be completed, the county commissioners must recommend the land transfer. If this is done, the Washington C.H. City Council would later accept or reject the

The commissioners will view the Mount Eber ditch at 10 a.m. Friday.

Brown confirms appointment

Mrs. Rodgers okayed for elections board

The appointment of Mrs. Louise M. Rodgers, Rt. 6, Washington C.H., to the Fayette County Board of Elections has been approved by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Mrs. Rodgers was chosen last week by the Fayette County Democratic Executive Committee to fill the vacancy on the board of elections created by the death of chairman Milbourne W. Barney. Mrs. Rodgers was unanimously recommended for the appointment, but the selection had to be approved by the secretary of state.

The term expires Feb. 28, 1978. Mrs. Rodgers served as deputy director of the Fayette County Board of Elections for a total of 14 years.

"Your service to the board of elections in the post of deputy director should be invaluable as a member of the board." Brown stated in his letter of certificate of appointment of Mrs. Rodgers. "Of course, the duties of a member of the board are different, but they do require mutual cooperation among the members. # First class mail delivery to improve, officials claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service says that starting next month it will give at least as good service for a 10-cent stamp as it now does for a 13cent airmail stamp.

Under the program that takes effect Oct. 11, first-class mail will receive service "equal to or better than airmail," the Postal Service said Sunday.

"For the mailing public, the practical effect of the firstclass improvement program is that domestic first-class postage will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," a Postal Service announcement said.

A Postal Service spokesman said much of the first-class mail destined for distant addresses now is transported by air. After Oct. 11, the Postal Service will guarantee that it will go by air, he said.

This means that there no longer will be an advantage in paying the extra three cents for an airmail stamp.

The Postal Service has discussed upgrading first-class mail since February but postponed the change until after new postal rates were

The Postal Service on Sunday obtained the legal authority to begin the process of increasing postal rates. The Postal Service is expected to do so this week, resulting in an increase in the first-class rate from 10 to 13 cents after Christmas.

"Due to the extensive use of air transportation, adjustments collection services and the use of letter sorting machines, the Postal Service has the capability of providing service to first-class mail which, on a national basis, will regularly equal or exceed airmail service performance," the announcement said

The Postal Service says that under the new program it will be able to program more than 90 per cent of all first-class mail for either next-day or second-day delivery. At present, that schedule applies only to airmail.

The service improvement program applies to domestic first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. A separate air parcel service, known as priority mail, and international airmail will remain unchanged.

After Sept. 22, airmail stamps, stamped cards and envelopes can be exchanged at full postage value for ordinary stamps, stamped cards and envelopes.

On Sunday night the Egyptian People's Assembly called on Sadat to break relation with the PLO and also end the 15-year-old friendship treaty between the Soviet Union and Egypt because of Soviet criticism of the Israeli-Egyptian pact.

MOVING A MOUNTAIN - Although workman on the Boylan and Cannon Electronics radio tower are not quite moving a mountain, their task has been formidable. The two-way communications tower is being transferred from its former location on N. Fayette Street to the new Boylan and Cannon store site on W. Court Street. The 180-foot tower weighs approximately seven tons and sets in a base of 35 yards of concrete. The final section and crane were moved shortly before noon Monday and re-erection on the new site began this afternoon. The structure provides sufficient power for the electronics firm to communicate with mobile units operating in 11 counties, including some north of Columbus.

Public meeting tonight on city's sewer project

A public meeting to discuss proposed requested to attend the public meeting improvements for the city's sewage treatment system will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Washington C.H. Fire Department on N. Fayette Street. Washington C.H. City Council chairman Ralph L. Cook said federal funding for the proposed improvements and complete revamping of the present city sewage treatment system is ready to be released and the public meeting is designed to attract public comment before a decision is reached on the multi-million dollar project.

Representatives from the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency in Columbus and from C.F. Bird and R.J. Bull, Ltd., Worthington, the city's consulting engineering firm, have been to assist City Council members in fielding questions from those present.

The city has submitted an application for a federal Environmental Protection Agency grant to finance the construction of a new sanitary sewer system in Washington c.H.

The grant would be paid through a 75 per cent reimbursement from the federal government and 25 per cent as the city's share.

The total project is estimated to cost $23.5 million and is scheduled to be completed in the 1980s, should city officials decide to accept the grant. The city was ranked tenth on the latest Environmental Protection Agency funding priority list.

who took a doctor and four other persons as hostages was shot dead by a police sharpshooter early today while trying to hijack an airliner, police said. The doctor was wounded, but no other injuries were reported at the airport,

The gunman, who was not immediately identified, was shot as he emerged from a Continental Airlines 727 passenger jet with a hostage in front of him and pointed a handgun at one of 25 police officers around the plane, police Sgt. Michael Van Dyke

The gunman had forced two Continental maintenance mechanics to start the engines of the unoccupied plane earlier, but police had shot out the tires as the jetliner moved down the runway, Van Dyke said at a news conference.

As the plane began moving, the doctor, who had been taken hostage at a hospital shortly before midnight, appeared at the door. A shot rang out, and the doctor tumbled down steps attached to the plane. He was critically wounded but crawled to safety, Van Dyke said.

The doctor was identified as Frank L. Wiefels, a radiologist.

He went to the San Jose Hospital and Health Center from the store, took Wiefels hostage, and headed for the Reid-Hillview Airport with the two hostages in an auto, Van Dyke said.

At the Reid-Hillview Airport, the gunman took a security guard hostage, switched to a Santa Clara County vehicle and took it and his three income is over $10,000 yearly.

Then, the Democrats' theory goes, consumers would set up a clamor, controls would be restored despite President Ford's objections, and Ford would have suffered a stinging defeat.

It is doubtful the battle between Ford and Congress over energy policy will end that way, but chances for such a turn will be improved this week unless House and Senate Democrats resolve their differences over terms of a brief extension of controls.

Both houses of Congress will devote virtually all their efforts this week to energy legislation. Because of the Yom Kippur holiday, the House planned no action today or Tuesday. The Senate scheduled a meeting for today but schduled no votes.

The House has cleared its calendar for the last three days of the week to conservation bill that also includes new oil-pricing provisions objected to by the White House Leaders of both houses will be involved in behind-the-scene negotiations trying to work out an extension of 60 days or so in the oil-price controls that expired Aug. 31. Ford wants to end price controls in the hope that higher prices for gasoline and other fuels will force conservation, give the oil industry more money to find more energy and reduce U.S. reliance on foreign oil.

His Democratic opponents fear the effects higher fuel prices would have on unemployment and recession. They say the Ford plan would raise gasoline prices by 10 to 12 cents a gallon, compared with the White House estimate of 3 cents.

The President vetoed the Democratic plan to extend controls for six months to allow Congress time to develop its own energy plan. The House then passed a 60-day extension of the con-

But a snag developed when Senate Democrats insisted on limiting Ford's authority to send Congress a "take-itorleave-it" plan for phasing out price controls during the extension period. Such a plan would become law unless rejected by the House or Senate within five days.

Senate Republicans objected strenuously to that restriction. And Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., chairman of the House energy and power subcommittee, said the Senate move was inviting a veto rebels threatened today to kill four Americans taken prisoner in northern Ethiopia unless the United States stops supplying arms to the Ethiopian government.

"Let him (Ford) veto it," one top Senate aide told a reporter. "He originally wanted an immediate end to price controls and by his veto of the sixmonth extension he got just what he had asked for. Let's see if he really wants to run next year with $1-a-gallon gasoline.'

Two of the Americans were kidnaped Saturday along with six Ethiopians when raiders attacked the U.S. Kagnew communications facility near Asmara, the capital of Eritrea province. The Pentagon said the Americans were Navy Electronic Tech. 3.C. Thomas C. Bowidowicz of Jersey City, N.J., and Army Spec. 5 David Strickland of Orlando, Fla.

Two other Americans, Steve Campbell of San Leandro, Calif., and Jim Harrell of Milwaukee, Wis., were kidnaped from Kagnew in July. Both were civilian technicians and were reported seen by a Syrian photographer last month in the hands of the rebels.

A spokesman for the Eritrean Liberation Front in Beirut said the ELF transmitted four demands to Washington through "a U.S. embassy in the Middle East."

In addition to the arms ban the demands included:

—Dismantling the Kagnew base and

-Compensation for areas of Eritrea that suffered heavy damage in attacks by the U.S.-equipped Ethiopian air force during fighting between the rebels and the Ethiopian government last February.

-U.S. government pressure on Ethiopia's military government to free all Eritrean rebels it holds.

"We demand a public U.S. government statement on these demands. Otherwise we shall not be responsible for what will happen to the four American captives," the ELF spokesman said.

Stock list pulls back

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market pulled back in very slow trading today, yielding again to concern over rising interest rates.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 6.02 at 803.27, and losers outnumbered gainers by close to a 2-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange

The market's persistent concern over the interest rate outlook was underscored during the morning by the rapid spread of a quarter-point increase in the bank prime lending rate to 8 per cent

Citicorp topped the Big Board's most active List, down 1/4 at 275/8. Blocks of 20,000 and 17,700 shares traded at 273/4. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index lost .38 to 83.10. Wall Streeters had been expecting activity to be slow because of the observance of the Jewish holiday Yom

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed stocks fell .25 to 44.01.

Basin Petroleum, the Amex volume leader, gained 3/4 to 91/4.

Agreement near in teacher strike

By MARY CURTIS Associated Press Writer

An agreement seems near and a ratification vote on a new contract to end the week-long teachers' strike in New York City could come as early as Tuesday, representatives of the teachers' union and the Board of Education say.

But the walkout by teachers in Chicago enters its 13th day today with no end in sight.

"We are near a conclusion, closer than we ever were," said Albert Shanker, president of New York's United Federation of Teachers. The UFT's 65,000 members struck the 1.1 millionpupil school system last Tues-

Shanker and Robert Christen, the school board's chief negotiator, said at a news conference Sunday that negotiations had been recessed until Monday because of Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement. New York teachers, who made from $9,700 to $20,350 under the old contract, have reduced their original demand for a 25 per cent wage increase, in light of the city's fiscal problems. Besides class sizes, issues include school board attempts to reduce teacher preparation time and eliminate sabbaticals.

In Chicago, where 530,000 students and 27,000 teachers have been out of school since Sept. 3, the Board of Education and the city's teachers' union remained far apart in their differences over a cost-of-living salary increase proposal.

Chicago teachers made from $10,400 to $20,996 under the old contract.

Classes were scheduled to open today at the eight Chicago City Colleges and

Thornton Community College where three-week teachers' strikes ended Sunday

In Lynn, Mass., a strike by 820 teachers ended Sunday night with an agreement between the city's school committee and the teachers' union, Supt. J. Leo McGuiness announced. In addition, teachers in North

Providence, R.I. tentatively agreed Sunday night to end their strike with a new contract. The 250-member union is scheduled to vote on the new pact today. The agreement calls for pay increases of 5.5

Auto insurance hiked for state

faces a Valentine's Day deadline to work out options to bring down the cost of insurance for state-owned vehicles.

Officials say the cost of insuring state-owned vehicles, already about $499,000 annually, could double next

Walter McCleary, deputy director of office services for the Ohio Department of Administrative Services, said because of that prediction, his department will do everything possible to reduce its accident rate before negotiations for new coverage begin in about 45 days

According to Henry Anderson, chief of insurance and risk management for the department, present insurance coverage with the Reliance Insurance Co. of Philadelphia expires Feb. 14.

"Our accident rate is high and the losses at present are running over 100 per cent of the premium," Anderson

The state does not actually insure its own vehicles for repairs after an accident, but does pay for liability coverage for bodily injury and for property damage to others.

"It's basically third-party liability,"

Anderson explained. Also, Anderson pointed out that the 15,000 vehicles the insurance covers include trucks, trailers, tractors, mowers, and farm machinery, as well as passenger cars and station wagons. Only about two-thirds of the vehicles are licensed for highway use. Phillip S. Hamilton, deputy director of personnel for the department, said programs will be initiated soon to provide better accident reporting within state government and added driver training, particularly for drivers involved in accidnets.

He said the accident reporting will include some form of point system to record when state employes are responsible for accidents so that drivers with serious accident records

Lockheed's foreign bribery

The Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's admitted 22-million-dollar outlay in payoffs to foreign government officials has been stoutly defended by the company's chairman and chief executive. Daniel J. Haughton. The theme of his defense, most recently in testimony before the Senate Banking Committee, is, in effect: Everyone's doing it, and if we don't do it too we'll lose business overseas

Nothing there about the morality of such practices. Specifically, nothing about the morality of making such payments - bribes, according to Committee Chairman William Proxmire; kickbacks, as Haughton said he prefers to call them - while benefiting by huge federal loan guarantees.

Far from doing public penance, Lockheed's boss suggested that payoffs of this kind were wholly compatible with sound business practice. He noted with some pride that despite the size of the bribes, or kickbacks, the company had always made money on foreign sales. He said paying foreign government officials to get big orders had been done for years "by a great many companies, both American and foreign." And he opined that if Congress wanted to enact a law forbidding this practice, agreements should be sought putting the same constraints on foreign-based companies.

Haughton, in short, pretty much carried the fight to the enemy. The committee got little out of him; he simply refused to say what nations were involved in the payoffs, or who got them, or even those through whom such payments were supposed to have been made.

Nevertheless, the corporate immorality of this practice did not go without notice. It got resounding mention by Treasuring Secretary William E. Simon. His sense of outrage may have been honed by the fact that among others kept in the dark about Lockheed's foreign payoffs were Simon and fellow members of the board charged with monitoring the 250-million-dollar loan guarantee program set up in the company's behalf.

In any case, Simon condemned Lockheed's "apparent long-standing practice of resorting to liberty to sell its products in foreign markets," and said he would vote against renewal of loan guarantees if any further payoffs of the kind were made. To that we say, Hear, hear!

Just now there seems to be a scare that the chemical used for decaffeinating coffee might be a carcinogen. Dow makes the stuff, and, for itself, it' is not particularly concerned if it is taken off the market. It has an alternate product that will do the same job.

All the same, people connected with the company say the scare is needless. The volume of the chemical needed to disturb the "metabolic pathway" of a rat is such that no human could ever, in a century or two, get enough from a decaffeinated coffee to make a comparison seem sensible.

Even so, a big Dow customer has taken its decaffeinated product off the market. It is satisfied that the decaffeinating agent is harmless in the miniscule amounts involved, but it figures the cost of educating the public to the point of overcoming the scare would be commercially prohibitive.

So American business loses another battle without the firing of a shot. Since there is more than one way of taking caffeine out of coffee, this defeat will be quickly absorbed by the market. It is not so much the specific forfeiture, it is the general lack of fight in the American businessman that is disconcerting. It's getting so that anybody who happens to be adept at starting a baseless rumor can play havoc with production that involves thousands of jobs.

The environmentalists, who had a good cause until the nut fringe took over, have American businessmen so paralyzed that the game goes by default almost every time.

The automobile industry is far more important than the business of selling denatured coffee. Yet its managers have not been able to mount a fight to save it from environmentalists who insist on applying the same standards of carburetor performance to the open spaces of Maine and Nebraska as they do to downtown Los Angeles. The cost of a court mounts and mounts; our increasing dependency on overseas oil makes foreign policy a daily hazard, and Detroit remins a terrible drag on economics recovery.

So it is that Leonard Woodcock, the liberal who runs the United Automobile Workers, has had to break with the ecological liberals to ask for a "pause" in the restrictive standards that have been mandated for 1978. Engine settings for good fuel efficiency differ from those needed for the lowest emissions. Woodcock warns Congress that if there is no trade-off between emission standards and economic performance, "the recession will be prolonged, massive unemployment continued and the human suffering as well as the social and economic costs to laid-off workers and their families . . . will be even more formidable.'

Maybe Woodcock can succeed where Motors and Ford managements have failed. Men waiting to be recalled to assembly line jobs seem to be less scared of Ralph Nader than the men in boardrooms.

The lack of conviction that is shown by the American businessman when it is a matter of fighting for a specific product stems from a general obliviousness to philosophical principle. Barrons puts it well in an important editorial when it speaks of the disheartening "confusion of business in the face of attack, its willingness to ignore friends and embrace enemies." It is a "dreary fact," says the editorialist, that "there are welldressed, scholarly men in the world who want to regulate prices and confiscate property.'

Business has been losing its battles for specific products because, aside from a few exception such as the Mobil Oil Corporation and the Coors beer people, it has shown no willingness to keep the ideas of limited government and a free market system alive. It won't support its friends - every year National Review, the Alternative, Modern Age and, now, Human Events, publications which have championed a free system, have had to ask their readers for sustaining subsidies.

The battle is in danger of being lost by default - and it is surely an irony that it may take a liberal labor leader, Leonard Woodcock, to pull it out

Old car buffs given break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Ohio's old may not be classed as junk vehicles car buffs got a break under a state law that took effect today

Among other things, they no longer have to be concerned about their vehicles passing safety inspections.

The new law also exempts vehicles that meet specified qualifications from existing or future requirements with regard to exhaust emissions, noise, or fuel usage

Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, sponsored the new statute as a result of the growing popularity of antique cars and concerns by some collectors that their hobbies could run afoul of the law.

He said strict enforcement of existing statutes could lead to a ban on the use of or even the destruction of antique motor vehicles. "A large segment of Ohio citizens enjoy the fun and nostalgia of it," the senator said.

Aronoff brought in an impressive collection of antique cars from throughout the state and rode in a parade around capitol square last spring to call attention to his measure. It passed both houses overwhelmingly before being signed into law by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Although Ohio doesn't have mandatory statewide safety inspections of motor vehicles, some are municipalities and in random programs around the state. The bill states that vehicles qualifying as historical vehicles (at least 25 years old) are exempt from such inspections, and with certain exceptions.

The bill creates a new classification of "collector's vehicles" and says they may be licensed if they are of special interest and owned, operated, or used 'exclusively as a collector's item or in leisure pursuit, investment, or sources of parts for motor vehicles, but not used as the owner's principal means of transportation."

Otherwise, the bill leaves unchanged the special $10 license fee for historical vehicles 25 years old or older, but provides for an additional $5 fee for collector's vehicles. The historical plates take the place of regular tags issued for all other vehicles, but the collector's plates do not.

Left intact by Aronoff's bill is the penalty for leaving a junk vehicleunless licensed as a collector's item-in open view for more than 10 days after receipt of notice.

Economic forecasts disagree

NEW YORK (AP) — Is inflation coming under control? Evidence that nobody knows is contained in the history of forecasts, which over the past decade have been lamentably inaccurate on this subject.

And the suggestion that one guess is as good as another is suggested by the amazingly wide range of opinions even among professionals who, like fortune tellers, earn good money for their alleged farsightedness.

Keepsake*

Guaranteed by the famous Keepsake Certificate assurance of perfect clarity, precise cut and fine white color.

145 E. Court St.

Alan Greenspan, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, maintains the inflation rate will simmer down by next spring, and that the annual rate of inflation for 1976 would be about 7 per cent. Even that rate, however, would hardly indicate that prices were under control, and Greenspan himself concedes it would be "by no means acceptable." No, not when we used to think that 3 per cent was too much.

The irrepresible Pierre Rinfret, whose opinions sometimes have been solicited by the White House and by political candidates, as well as by his regular big business clients, is a bit more cynical.

"Hope for the best, prepare for the worst. That's the strategy for 1976," Rinfret writes in his current "confidential" advisory

"How do you protect yourself against inflation?" he asks rhetorically. "By raising your prices by more than the inflation rate," he answers, explaining that for a decade "the major mistake has been to believe inflation would disappear.

In the view of the National Association of Purchasing Management, the business recovery is under way but "an unwelcome return of price increases gives cause for concern.'

But not all surveys of purchasing agents indicate a fear that inflation might undermine the recovery. The highly regarded magazine Purchasing World makes this unqualified declaration:

"Everybody is worried about prices except buyers.' John O'Connor, editor, conducted two surveys and reached the conclusion that "the people who actually pay the bills for their companies' supplies of goods and materials don't buy the economic doomsday prediction.'

O'Connor observes that many sellers are maintaining high list, or book, prices, but are quoting actual prices much lower. He suggests that the government indexes, which are based on list prices, are thereby distorted.

Well, who do you believe? Searching for an answer one is eventually directed to the consumer, the final buyer, the final arbiter of prices, the ultimate decision maker. If the consumer is pessimistic he probably is so for good reason.

When the consumer believes his income will be sufficient and prices stable and the job market healthy, he is said to have confidence. Remove one of those factors, such as his belief in stable prices, and his confidence

The Sindlinger & Co. household survey was consulted in an effort to determine whether consumers were confident - that is, whether they thought prices and other economic factors were in their favor.

As of the final week of August they were divided 50-50, precisely, "a rare point when the ceaseless push-pull battle within the consuming public was at a total standoff.'

'All of the 95 teachers who attended last night's meeting are anxious to several items stemming from a dispute meet with all board members as soon as possible so this crisis can be mutually resolved," Baal said. "However, teachers are not going to simply bow to the board's unilateral changes. Teachers feel that a fair and equitable settlement can be reached if the board is willing to compromise," Baal stated.

The meeting, which was attended by all but a few teachers in the Greenfield School District, began with a report from Baal concerning the complete background of the crisis. He also explained that there had been no response from any board member or from the superintendent to the association's offer to meet to resolve the dispute. Various alternative actions were

The One-Minute Get Well. 36¢ or less.

Why Jack, how are you?

The question is, how are you? Heard you won't be bowling for a while.

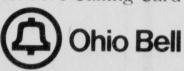

A one-minute out-of-state long distance call can mean so much, and it costs so little.

After 5 pm, a one-minute out-of-state directdialed call is only 36¢ or less.

Why, compared to writing and sending a letter, it's faster, easier and so much more personal.

Of course, if you want to say more than get well, it's even a better bargain. Because each additional minute is less. Making a 10-minute visit as far as California just $2.70, plus tax—it's even less after 11 pm, all day Saturday and until 5 pm Sunday.

So keep our handy After-Five Calling Card handy. For saying get well. Or happy birthday. Or thank you. Or anything.

is back. Stan Fritts is arriving. And on a 44-yard draw play that set up one Ken Anderson can't wait to get going.

'This is what we needed to get some momentum rolling," said Anderson, whose first-half leadership triggered the Cincinnati Bengals' 20-0 exhibition victory over the New Orleans Saints Saturday night.

'Everything's falling into place," said Anderson, who completed 13 of 19 one touchdown.

A crowd of 48,000 watched the Bengals register their first exhibition shutout in the club's eight-year history.

And while Coach Paul Brown downplayed the victory, he was understandably excited with the crunching running of Clark and Fritts.

In fact, Brown hinted Fritts, who led all rushers with 90 yards in 12 carries, may have won a starting job with Clark in next Sunday's home opener against the rival Cleveland Browns.

Fritts, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound fourth round draft pick out of North Carolina State, had a stunning night, the best by a Bengal back during the pre-season. Labeled "too small and too slow" most of his career, he averaged 7.5 yards per

Patriots strike alone

By The Associated Press

Sympathy abounds among National Football League players for the New England Patriots' lonely strike stance. Whether it can be turned into real support in the next 48 hours will likely determine the outcome of the players' latest rebellion.

The Patriots, in a show of solidarity, voted to strike and forced the cancellation of their Sunday exhibition against the New York Jets in the belief that others would follow their demand that NFL owners and the players' union reach agreement on a new labor contract.

The followers did not materialize over the weekend and now the Patriots face a lockout by management if they attempt to resume practice Tuesday for this weekend's NFL opener against

Team after team announced Sunday they supported the Patriots. The St. Louis Cardinals even voted 30-16 to strike, but decided that vote was not strong enough and went ahead with their exhibition game against Denver, which the Broncos won 21-17.

"We do not enjoy this task which we have taken upon ourselves," said Randy Vataha, player representative for the Patriots, who voted 39-2 to strike. Vataha, holding a news conference in a restaurant parking lot in Foxboro, Mass., Sunday, called on the other 25 NFL clubs to join the Patriots on the strike line.

Clark, the Bengals' rhino-sized fullback who missed most of 1974 with a broken arm, looked as devastating as he was in 1973 when he rumbled for 988 yards as a rookie.

But Brown didn't take any chances with Clark, yanking him out of the holding back for their opener against lineup at halftime for fear of injury. "I passes in the first half for 137 yards and just had a funny feeling about him," Sunday,

Ball State blast Toledo, 38-28

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Those typical MAC game-good, old-fashionnew kids in the league are taking turns leading the early Mid-American Conference football race.

It's Ball State this week after the Cardinals made their debut with a rousing 38-28 success Saturday over Toledo, one of the old guard.

Another expansion school, Central Michigan, tumbled from the No. 1 spot to second place after settling for a 6-6 standoff with Ohio University.

That put Ball State at 1-0-0 and Central Michigan at 1-0-1. However, the expected contenders, champion Miami (Ohio), Bowling Green and Kent State, have yet to play their first 1975 conference games.

Miami tuned up for a big date at Michigan State this week, clobbering Marshall 50-0 for the Redskins' 24th game without defeat.

In other nonconference activity Saturday, Western Michigan dropped its second straight decision 27-21 to Akron, Eastern Michigan squared its record at 1-1 in beating Indiana State 30-7, Kent State salvaged a 31-29 triumph over Northeast Louisiana, Bowling Green edged Brigham Young 23-21, and Northern Illinois fell to Long Beach 24-7.

Ohio's Gary Homer and Raid Savich of Central Michigan traded two field goals each, which made Bobcats' Coach Bill Hess unhappy. "We didn't come all the way here for a loss or tie. We expected to win," snapped the Ohio coach.

Said Roy Kramer, Central Michigan's coach, "We couldn't establish our inside running game and couldn't maintain consistency. It was a Ball State blunted Toledo passing whiz Gene Swick. He could complete only 15 of 38 passes for a sub-standard 158 yards, bringing a huge grin to Cardinal Coach Dave McClain's face.

'It's the most satisfying victory for me as a head coach," said McClain of his team's first ever game in the MAC. Quarterback Art Yaroch drilled two touchdown passes and ran for a third score, leading Ball State to a 2-0 start.

Lion linksters drop third match

The Washington C.H. Senior High School golf team ran into a tough East Clinton foursome Friday at the Washington Country Club.

The East Clinton linksters ran their record to 7-0 for the year with a 169-183 win. Flint took medalist honors on the day with a 38 to pace the winners while Scott Sefton shot a 42 for the Washington C.H. top score.

East Clinton's fifth man shot a fine 45 as the unbeaten golfers breezed to a 14 stroke win.

John Moore carded a 44 and Scott Lewis and Gary Fisher shot a 48 and a 49 respectively to round out the top four Court House scores while fifth man Greg Tillett shot a 50.

The Blue Lion golfers will travel to Greenfield Monday for a league match with the McClain linksters was plucked from the Mets' Tidewater Francisco Giants and the Cincinnati farm club about a month ago, interrupting his 19-game hitting streak.

Reds split twinbill

The move was designed to help the Mets in their charge toward the top of the National League East, a charge that never materialized.

But while the Mets have slowed down, Vail has picked up even more speed. He's hit in 23 of his 25 games in the majors, including the last 22 in a row to match the longest streak in the big league's this year by Boston's Denny Doyle

No. 22, off St. Louis' John Denny in the Mets' 6-2 loss to the Cardinals, also moved Vail within one game of the NL record for rookie streak-hitting, set by Philadelphia's Joe Rapp in 1921 and equalled by the Phils' Richie Ashburn in 1948. The major league mark for rookies is 26 by Guy Curtright of the 1943 Chicago White Sox. Vail is also one game away from matching the Mets' alltime hitting streak of 23 by Cleon Jones in 1970.

In Sunday's other NL games, Pittsburgh remained 51/2 games ahead of Philadelphia. The Pirates beat Montreal 4-3, the Phils routed Chicago 13-7, San Francisco split with Cincinnati, winning 4-2 and losing 8-3, Houston topped San Diego 4-2 and Los Angeles downed Atlanta 4-3.

"I was pretty happy about that," Vail said of his fourthinning single. "I think my hitting's been seeing the ball better in major league parks. There are better lights up here." The figures back him up. He was hitting .342 at Tidewater. He's batting .347 with the Mets.

Pirates 4, Expos 3

Miguel Dilone raced from first to home with the aid of an error to help Pittsburgh beat Montreal. Woodie Fryman walked Manny Sanguillen and Bob Robertson in the eighth inning and Dilone replaced Robertson.

Duffy Dyer's single to right scored Sanguillen and when Tony Scott, a defensive replacement, bobbled the ball, Dilone steamed home, too.

Phillies 13, Cubs 7

Mike Schmidt, the major league home-run leader, belted his 35th and 36th of the year to pace the Phils. Schmidt drove in four runs and Dick Allen had three RBI on a homer and a single. Astros 4, Padres 2

Enos Cabell's two RBI and the combined nine-hit pitching of J.R. Richard and Joe Niekro carried Houston past the Padres. John Grubb had a two-run double for San Diego.

Dodgers 3 Braves 2

Ron Cey's 24th homer, a tworun shot in the sixth inning lifted Los Angeles past the Braves and gave Doug Rau his fifth straight victory.

County gridders win reserve contests

Washington C.H. and Miami Trace reserve grid squads spoiled any lurking feelings of revenge Saturday by picking up where the varsity teams left off the night before. The Court House reserves topped Chillicothe 14-0 while the Trace junior varsity trounced Greenon 32-6.

The Blue Lion's scored on their first possession as sophomore tailback Jeff Elliott set up the touchdown with a 40yard scamper. Quarterback Mark nati broke it open with five runs in the Heiny connected with Tony West from eight yards out for the score. A repeat of the Heiny to West touchdown pass on The Reds, who have 98 wins, begin a the conversion try gave the Court House reserves an 8-0 lead.

Bret Wilson and Heiny picked off two Chillicothe passes and coaches John Creamer and Dale Lynch singled out Fred Williams, Wilson and West for their defensive work.

The Miami Trace reserve passing combo of Shane Riley and Joe Black completely demolished the Greenon reserve's secondary Saturday.

Riley completed only five passes on the day, but Black latched on to three of them for scores of 51, 24 and 12 yards. Riley also connected with Mark Smithson for a two-point conversion while fullback Neil Spears scored the other two Panther touchdowns on short

The lone Greenon score came on a 456-yard pass from Kelly Brown to tight end Mark Parsons in the third quarter. The Trace coaching staff said a fine defensive effort was turned in by the Panther reserves as the long touchdown pass was attributed to a mixup in the secondary.

The Panthers were helped out by three Greenon fumbles on kickoffs while the defense held the Knight reserves to just 23 yards rushing. The Panthers ran up 309 total yards with Riley, Spears, Tony Walters and

Dan Gifford accounting for over 200 yards on the ground. The wins left both county squads undefeated for the young season, but that should change next Saturday as the two teams meet for a preview of the November 7 varsity encounter between

AP Sports Writer Part of the problem in trying to recruit football talent to Wake Forest University is that it's located in Winston-Salem, N.C., and most flights require a change of planes somewhere along the way.

"We've never recruited a player who had to change planes to get here." Coach Chuck Mills observed following last year's dismal 1-10 record.

But a few more victories like Saturday's 30-22 upset of 15th-ranked North Carolina State and the airlines may schedule a few more direct flights. Jerry McManus ran 11 yards for one touchdown and passed eight and 29 vards to Bill Millner for two more scores as the Demon Deacons posted the biggest surprise in an early-season rash of upsets.

The first full-scale weekend of the season also included Memphis State's 31-20 shocker of seventh-ranked Auburn, South Carolina's 23-17 triumph over a Georgia Tech club that was rated the South's best independent, Tulane's 17-13 victory over Clemson in the losers' "Death Valley" backyard, Northwestern's 31-25 upset of Purdue, Rice's 24-7 decision over Houston and Texas-Arlington's 24-7 surprise of Texas Christian

Most of the top teams came through unscathed. Oklahoma's defending national champions, No. 1 again in The Associated Press ratings, swamped Oregon 62-7, runner-up Michigan throttled Wisconsin 23-7, thirdranked Ohio State stifled No. 11 Michigan State 21-0 and No. 4 Southern California rolled over Duke 35-7.

Missouri, rated fifth following last week's 20-7 battering of then secondranked Alabama, was idle while No. 6 Nebraska edged Louisiana State 10-7, No. 8 Texas A&M shaded Mississippi 7-0 and No. 10 Penn State trimmed Stanford 34-14. Ninth-ranked Notre Dame meets Boston College tonight at Foxboro, Mass., in a nationally televised contest (ABC-TV, 9 p.m., McManus again hit Millner for a score. EDT).

In the Second Ten, No. 12 Texas walloped Colorado State 46-0, No. 20 Tennessee downed No. 14 Maryland 26-8, No. 16 UCLA crushed Iowa State 37-21 and No. 19 Florida mauled Southern Methodist 40-14. Alabama, Arizona and Pitt, ranked 13th, 17th and 18th, respectively, were not scheduled.

Wake Forest and N.C. State were tied 14-all at halftime but McManus' first touchdown pass to Millner put the Deacons on top for good in the third period. In the fourth quarter, Bob Hely kicked a 32-yard field goal and

APINTO DOESN'T HAVE THE GUTS TO BE A RABBIT.

Pinto claims to be a better buy than a Volkswagen Rabbit.

But it's really not.

Because when you add up all the features that are standard on a Rabbit and optional on a Pinto, plus all the features you can't even get on a Pinto, you come to a startling conclusion.

The Rabbit is not only a better engineered car. It's a bargain at the price.

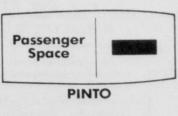

The Rabbit has front-wheel drive. Like an Eldorado and a Toronado.

Features that are standard on a Rabbit and that cost more on a Pinto.

They compare a 2-door Pinto to a 3-door hatchback Rabbit. How much does a hatchback Pinto cost? $215 extra: To get the same kind of performance as a Rabbit (0 to 50 in 8.2 seconds), you have to order a larger 6-cylinder engine with a special rear axle. $272 extra on the Pinto.* Of course, with the larger engine you'd only get 22 mpg on the highway and 16 in the city.**

More Passenger Space

RABBIT The Rabbit has the engine mounted sideways to give you more passenger space.

The Rabbit gets 38 mpg on the highway and 24 mpg in the city." So driving an average of 12,000 miles a year, you'd spend about $10 extra for gas every month with the Pinto. To get the same effortless 3.3 turn lock-to-lock steering as a Rabbit, you'd have to get power steering on the Pinto. $117

Features on a Rabbit that you can't get on a Pinto at any price.

Front-wheel drive. This gives the Rabbit greater tracking and stability. Not available on the Pinto.

Dual diagonal braking system. If one braking system should fail, another is there to help stop the car. Not available on Negative steering roll radius. This helps stop a Rabbit in a straight line. Not available on the Pinto.

4-wheel independent suspension. This gives added riding comfort and better handling on rough roads. Not available on the Pinto.

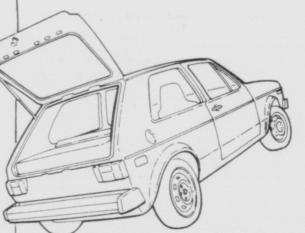

The Rabbit has 4-wheel independent suspension. Like a Porsche.

Interior room. The Rabbit is much roomier than a Pinto. In fact, it has as much leg and head room as some mid-size cars.

Visibility. A Rabbit has more overall glass area than the Pinto's big brother, the Lincoln Mark IV.

Protection. The Rabbit is built so well it's covered by the Volkswagen Owner's Security Blanket, the most advanced car coverage plan in the world.

The hatchback on a Rabbit is standard. On a Pinto, it's extra.

You should also listen to the experts. Popular Mechanics called the Rabbit "The Best Value For 1975" and Road and Track named it "The Best Sedan Under $3500."

But test drive the Rabbit yourself. It's really the best way to tell what they leave out of a Pinto to make it so cheap.

GREENVILLE, Del. (AP) -

shells come from the bellies of Enterprising collectors are finding the most-prized specimens by catching and opening shell-eating fish in South Africa, the Philippines and Brazil, according to Dr. R. Tucker Abbott, a conchologist - shell scientist - at the new Delaware Museum of Natural History

A report on ex pisces (out of fish) mollusks appears in "Kingdom of the Seashell," a book written by Dr. Abbott.

It reveals that shells removed from the stomachs of fish have brought an estimated $20,000 from collectors over a fouryear period. Many of these ex pisces specimens are obtainable only from fish predators because they live in inaccessible shallow-water places. Rare cone shells are often eaten by fish. These specimens include Glory-of-India, the Glory-of-Bengal and, perhaps the rarest of all ex pisces shells, the Du Savel Cone.

Exercise with High Blood Pressure?

Are people with high blood pressure allowed to exercise?

Mr. C.V., Fla. Dear Mr. V.: Sensible exercise is now Dear Mrs. J.:

prescribed for people who have had a heart attack. So certainly people with high blood pressure embark on a course of moderate exercise.

An interesting sidelight of the the fact that patients with high blood pressure were shown to have a distinct lowering of the blood pressure when exercise was carefully planned and gradually increased.

Another interesting finding showed that there was a reduction of the triglycerides, or fatty substances, in the blood after well-regulated exercise.

The psychological and physical benefits of exercise are great for people with conditions like hypertension. It removes problem investigated. In many the feeling that they are chronic instances, hormone studies invalids and helps to create a reveal the reason for a slow or sense of well-being.

Of course, it must be restated that anyone with high blood pressure, or one who has suffered a heart attack, should embark on an exercise program with approval of the doctor.

Specialists in exercise programming can now test the cardiac reserve of a person and plan a safe program for healthful exercise.

Is it possible to predict how tall a young child will be as an adult?

NDIAN SPRING RO

DANBURY.

Mrs. B.J., Va.

With normal health and good nutrition, the family pattern of height is often a good guide to can, with proper conditioning, the probable height that a child will attain.

It is said that a boy at 27 months and a girl of 20 months beneficial aspects of exercise is will have reached half of their adult height.

It is also said that a boy of 9 and a girl of 7 have reached about three-fourths of their adult height.

There are, of course, variations of this rule that occur particularly with hormone imbalance and inadequate nutrition.

When children do not seem to have attained a height close to those in the same age group, it is a good idea to have the impaired growth.

Then, with specific hormones, the rate of growth can often be stimulated.

The bidding: South West North East Dble Pass 2 Pass 5 9 Pass Dble

Opening lead - king of clubs.

This deal occurred in the match between Australia and the U.S. in the 1971 world championship.

It is easy enough to determine what West should lead at trick two - if you see all four hands - but the actual West, Bobby Wolff of Texas, did not have that advantage. He had to choose between playing a diamond at trick two - which would cost him the contract if South had some such hand as:

♠ KQJxxxx ♥ xx ♦ Kx ♣ xx - or whether to try to cash of spades.

another high club before shifting to a diamond.

Wolff guessed wrong, even though he knew from East's play of the six that declarer had the only missing club, when he cashed the ace of clubs before switching to a diamond. Had he led a diamond at trick two, five spades doubled would have gone down one.

Declarer was Norma Borin, one of the few women ever to participate in the Bermuda Bowl world championship, and she played the hand to perfection to make the contract in grand style.

She won the diamond with the ace, ruffed a club, played a heart to the ace and ruffed another club, establishing the J-9 as tricks. Now, after ruffing a heart low in dummy, Mrs. Borin led the ten of spades and finessed after East had followed

She next led the jack of clubs from dummy, thus accomplishing East's destruction. Whether or not he ruffed, Mrs. Borin had the contract in tow, as she would be able to dispose of her diamond loser in either case - either immediately or eventually. It would not have helped East to cover the ten of spades with the king because, in that event, Mrs. Borin would have an entry to dummy's nine

Beef raisers eye Japan

WASHINGTON (AP) — New interest is being shown in Japan as a growth market for U.S. beef as the result of new import quotas set by the Japanese government, the Agriculture Department said today.

Japan banned beef imports, except to fulfill existing contracts, in Feb. 1974. But soaring beef prices for Japanese consumers early this year resulted in new quotas being authorized since June to help make up a deficit estimated at 90,000 metric tons.

department's Foreign Agricultural Service said U.S. representatives in Tokyo have undertaken steps for the promotion of American beef in hopes of obtaining a larger share of what they see as a developing market.

U.S. beef sales to Japan have been a recent development in themselves, rising from 707 tons in calendar 1972 to 11,260 in 1973. Last year, with most of it shipped before the import ban, U.S beef shipments were 6,071 tons. During the first seven months of 1975, including the carryover from prior contracts not affected by the ban, shipments were

Mrs. Rodgers okayed for elections board

The appointment of Mrs. Louise M. Rodgers, Rt. 6, Washington C.H., to the Fayette County Board of Elections has been approved by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Mrs. Rodgers was chosen last week by the Fayette County Democratic Executive Committee to fill the vacancy on the board of elections created by the death of chairman Milbourne W. Barney. The term expires Feb. 28, 1978. Mrs. Rodgers served as deputy director of the Fayette County Board of Elections for a total of 14 years.

"Your service to the board of elections in the post of deputy director should be invaluable as a member of the board," Brown stated in his letter of certificate of appointment of Mrs. Rodgers. # First class mail delivery to improve, officials claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service says that starting next month it will give at least as good service for a 10-cent stamp as it now does for a 13cent airmail stamp.

Under the program that takes effect Oct. 11, first-class mail will receive service "equal to or better than airmail," the Postal Service said Sunday.

"For the mailing public, the practical effect of the firstclass improvement program is that domestic first-class postage will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," a Postal Service announcement said.

A Postal Service spokesman said much of the first-class mail destined for distant addresses now is transported by air. After Oct. 11, the Postal Service will guarantee that it will go by

This means that there no longer will be an advantage in paying the extra three cents for an airmail stamp.

The Postal Service has discussed upgrading first-class mail since February but postponed the change until after new postal rates were

The Postal Service on Sunday obtained the legal authority to begin the process of increasing postal rates. The Postal Service is expected to do so this week, resulting in an increase in the first-class rate from 10 to 13 cents after Christmas

"Due to the extensive use of air transportation, adjustments collection services and the use of letter sorting machines, the Postal Service has the capability of providing service to first-class mail which, on a national basis, will regularly equal or exceed airmail service performance," the announcement said

The Postal Service says that under the new program it will be able to program more than 90 per cent of all first-class mail for either next-day or second-day delivery. At present, that schedule applies only to airmail.

The service improvement program applies to domestic first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. A separate air parcel service, known as priority mail, and international airmail will remain unchanged.

After Sept. 22, airmail stamps, stamped cards and envelopes can be exchanged at full postage value for ordinary stamps, stamped cards and envelopes.

income is over $10,000 yearly.

Then, the Democrats' theory goes, consumers would set up a clamor, controls would be restored despite President Ford's objections, and Ford would have suffered a stinging defeat.

It is doubtful the battle between Ford and Congress over energy policy will end that way, but chances for such a turn will be improved this week unless House and Senate Democrats resolve their differences over terms of a brief extension of controls.

Both houses of Congress will devote virtually all their efforts this week to energy legislation. Because of the Yom Kippur holiday, the House planned no action today or Tuesday. The Senate scheduled a meeting for today but schduled no votes.

The House has cleared its calendar for the last three days of the week to conservation bill that also includes new oil-pricing provisions objected to by the White House. Leaders of both houses will be involved in behind-the-scene negotiations trying to work out an extension of 60 days or so in the oil-price controls that expired Aug. 31.

Ford wants to end price controls in the hope that higher prices for gasoline and other fuels will force conservation, give the oil industry more money to find more energy and reduce U.S. reliance on foreign oil.

His Democratic opponents fear the effects higher fuel prices would have on unemployment and recession. They say the Ford plan would raise gasoline prices by 10 to 12 cents a gallon, compared with the White House estimate of 3 cents.

The President vetoed the Democratic plan to extend controls for six months to allow Congress time to develop its passed a 60-day extension of the controls law.

But a snag developed when Senate Democrats insisted on limiting Ford's authority to send Congress a "take-itorleave-it" plan for phasing out price controls during the extension period. Such a plan would become law unless rejected by the House or Senate within Republicans objected strenuously to that restriction. And Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., chairman of the House energy and power subcommittee, said the Senate move was inviting a veto.

"Let him (Ford) veto it," one top Senate aide told a reporter. "He originally wanted an immediate end to price controls and by his veto of the sixmonth extension he got just what he had asked for. Let's see if he really wants to run next year with $1-a-gallon gasoline."

Army troops near Tripoli opened fire for the first time since they established buffer zones last week between the warring Christians and Moslems.

The troops clashed with militiamen of the leftist, predominantly Moslem Oct. 24 Movement who police said blew up buildings and cabanas at a Christian beach owned by a member of President Suleiman Franjieh's family and then threatened to kill Christian workers at a nearby cement factory.

Agreement near in teacher strike

By MARY CURTIS

Associated Press Writer

An agreement seems near and a ratification vote on a new contract to end the week-long teachers' strike in New York City could come as early as Tuesday, representatives of the teachers' union and the Board of Education say.

But the walkout by teachers in Chicago enters its 13th day today with no end in sight.

"We are near a conclusion, closer than we ever were," said Albert Shanker, president of New York's United Federation of Teachers. The UFT's 65,000 members struck the 1.1 millionpupil school system last Tues-

Shanker and Robert Christen, the school board's chief negotiator, said at a news conference Sunday that negotiations had been recessed until Monday because of Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement.

New York teachers, who made from $9,700 to $20,350 under the old contract. have reduced their original demand for a 25 per cent wage increase, in light of the city's fiscal problems. Besides class sizes, issues include school board attempts to reduce teacher preparation time and eliminate sabbaticals

In Chicago, where 530,000 students and 27,000 teachers have been out of school since Sept. 3, the Board of Education and the city's teachers' union remained far apart in their differences over a cost-of-living salary increase proposal. Chicago teachers made from $10,400 to $20,996 under the old contract. Classes were scheduled to open today at the eight Chicago City Colleges and Thornton Community College where three-week teachers' strikes ended In Lynn, Mass., a strike by 820 teachers ended Sunday night with an agreement between the city's school committee and the teachers' union, Supt. J. Leo McGuiness announced. In addition, teachers in North

Providence, R.I. tentatively agreed Sunday night to end their strike with a new contract. The 250-member union is scheduled to vote on the new pact today. The agreement calls for pay increases of 5.5 per cent. Acceptance will open schools for about 4,500 pupils.

Auto insurance hiked for state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state can be denied state vehicle driving faces a Valentine's Day deadline to work out options to bring down the cost of insurance for state-owned vehicles.

Officials say the cost of insuring state-owned vehicles, already about $499,000 annually, could double next

Walter McCleary, deputy director of office services for the Ohio Department of Administrative Services, said because of that prediction, his department will do everything possible to reduce its accident rate before negotiations for new coverage begin in about 45 days.

According to Henry Anderson, chief of insurance and risk management for the department, present insurance coverage with the Reliance Insurance Co. of Philadelphia expires Feb. 14.

"Our accident rate is high and the losses at present are running over 100 per cent of the premium," Anderson

The state does not actually insure its own vehicles for repairs after an accident, but does pay for liability coverage for bodily injury and for property damage to others.

'It's basically third-party liability," Anderson explained.

Also, Anderson pointed out that the 15,000 vehicles the insurance covers include trucks, trailers, tractors, mowers, and farm machinery, as well as passenger cars and station wagons.

Only about two-thirds of the vehicles are licensed for highway use. Phillip S. Hamilton, deputy director of personnel for the department, said programs will be initiated soon to provide better accident reporting within state government and added driver training, particularly for drivers involved in accidnets.

He said the accident reporting will include some form of point system to record when state employes are responsible for accidents so that drivers with serious accident records

Lockheed's foreign bribery

The Lockheed Aircraft Corporation's admitted 22-million-dollar outlay in payoffs to foreign government officials has been stoutly defended by the company's chairman and chief executive, Daniel J. Haughton. The theme of his defense, most recently in testimony before the Senate Banking Committee, is, in effect: Everyone's doing it, and if we don't do it too we'll lose business overseas.

Nothing there about the morality of such practices. Specifically, nothing about the morality of making such payments - bribes, according to Committee Chairman William Proxmire; kickbacks, as Haughton said he prefers to call them - while benefiting by huge federal loan guarantees.

Far from doing public penance, Lockheed's boss suggested that payoffs of this kind were wholly compatible with sound business practice. He noted with some pride that despite the size of the bribes, or kickbacks, the company had always made money on foreign sales. He said paying foreign government officials to get big orders had been done for years "by a great many companies, both American and foreign." And he opined that if Congress wanted to enact a law forbidding this practice, agreements should be sought putting the same constraints on foreign-based com-

Haughton, in short, pretty much carried the fight to the enemy. The committee got little out of him; he simply refused to say what nations were involved in the payoffs, or who got them, or even those through whom such payments were supposed to have been made.

Nevertheless, the corporate immorality of this practice did not go without notice. It got resounding mention by Treasuring Secretary William E. Simon. His sense of outrage may have been honed by the fact that among others kept in the dark about Lockheed's foreign payoffs were Simon and fellow members of the board charged with monitoring the 250-million-dollar loan guarantee program set up in the company's behalf.

In any case, Simon condemned Lockheed's "apparent long-standing practice of resorting to liberty to sell its products in foreign markets," and said he would vote against renewal of loan guarantees if any further payoffs of the kind were made. To that we say, Hear, hear!

Old car buffs given break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's old car buffs got a break under a state law that took effect today.

Among other things, they no longer have to be concerned about their vehicles passing safety inspections.

The new law also exempts vehicles that meet specified qualifications from existing or future requirements with regard to exhaust emissions, noise, or fuel usage.

Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, sponsored the new statute as a result of the growing popularity of antique cars and concerns by some collectors that their hobbies could run afoul of the law.

He said strict enforcement of existing statutes could lead to a ban on the use of or even the destruction of antique motor vehicles. "A large segment of Ohio citizens enjoy the fun and nostalgia of it," the senator said.

Aronoff brought in an impressive collection of antique cars from throughout the state and rode in a parade around capitol square last spring to call attention to his measure. It passed both houses overwhelmingly before being signed into law by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Although Ohio doesn't have mandatory statewide safety inspections of motor vehicles, some are conducted by municipalities and in random programs around the state. The bill states that vehicles qualifying as historical vehicles (at least 25 years old) are exempt from such inspections, and of "collector's vehicles" and says they may be licensed if they are of special interest and owned, operated, or used 'exclusively as a collector's item or in leisure pursuit, investment, or sources of parts for motor vehicles, but not used as the owner's principal means of transportation."

Otherwise, the bill leaves unchanged the special $10 license fee for historical vehicles 25 years old or older, but provides for an additional $5 fee for collector's vehicles. The historical plates take the place of regular tags issued for all other vehicles, but the collector's plates do not.

Left intact by Aronoff's bill is the penalty for leaving a junk vehicleunless licensed as a collector's item-in open view for more than 10 days after receipt of notice.

I spent some time last week in the toxicology laboratory of the Dow Chemical Company in Midland, Michigan, where, with the aid of rabbits, rhesus monkeys and other assorted fauna, elaborate precautions are taken by "product stewards" to see that no cancer-inducing substance goes from the company's plants into the mainstream of commerce.

Just now there seems to be a scare that the chemical used for decaffeinating coffee might be a carcinogen. Dow makes the stuff, and, for itself, it' is not particularly concerned if it is taken off the market. It has an alternate product that will do the same job.

All the same, people connected with the company say the scare is needless. The volume of the chemical needed to

YOU BORN TODAY are a scholar at heart, ceaseless in a quest for knowledge and a whiz at imparting your learning to others. You would make an educator par excellence or, along similar lines, an outstanding lecturer. You have a great love of nature and all things related to the earth; could shine as a botanist agriculturist or geologist. Business will probably interest you less than a profession and, in the latter connection, the best outlets for your telents, aside from the aforementioned, include the law, the theater, literature and music. Traits to curb: moodiness and impatience with others.

economics recovery. So it is that Leonard Woodcock, the liberal who runs the United Automobile Workers, has had to break with the ecological liberals to ask for a "pause" in the restrictive standards that have been mandated for 1978. Engine settings for good fuel efficiency differ from those needed for the lowest emissions. Woodcock warns Congress that if there is no trade-off between emission standards and economic performance, "the recession will be prolonged, massive unemployment continued and the human suffering as well as the social and economic costs to laid-off workers and their families . . .

will be even more formidable.' Maybe Woodcock can succeed where General Motors and managements have failed. Men waiting to be recalled to assembly line jobs seem to be less scared of Ralph Nader than the men in boardrooms

The lack of conviction that is shown by the American businessman when it is a matter of fighting for a specific product stems from a general obliviousness to philosophical principle. Barrons puts it well in an important editorial when it speaks of the disheartening "confusion of business in the face of attack, its willingness to ignore friends and embrace enemies." It is a "dreary fact," says the editorialist, that "there are welldressed, scholarly men in the world who want to regulate prices and confiscate property.'

Business has been losing its battles for specific products because, aside from a few exception such as the Mobil Oil Corporation and the Coors beer people, it has shown no willingness to keep the ideas of limited government and a free market system alive. It won't support its friends - every year National Review, the Alternative, Modern Age and, now, Human Events, publications which have championed a free system, have had to ask their readers for sustaining subsidies. The battle is in danger of being lost by default - and it is surely an irony that it may take a liberal labor leader, Leonard Woodcock, to pull it out.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mercy, the new season is innovative. In CBS' new "Three for the Road," one lad had a fear of heights. In ABC's "Swiss Family Robinson," a young boy had a fear of Each fear was the cause of crisis in the shows the networks scheduled as the newcomers began their Sunday night run in hope of wresting ratings away from NBC's durable "World of Disney.

The better-produced and photographed show was the CBS entry, which stars Alex Rocco as a widowed photographer who travels about in a large camper with his two sons, one teen-aged, the other preteen.

The plot concerned hang-gliding, which Rocco was covering for a national magazine, and the effort of his older boy (Vincent Van Patten) to overcome his fear of heights and try the

Somewhere in all this was a subplot about No. 1 son getting sweet on a hanggliding college student (Kathleen Cody) who, after trying to catch his attention, almost left him just hanging

There was a lot of ominous music, a must for critical moments, but the plot was thin, likewise the dialog.

Still, Rocco, who vaguely resembles NBC's Tom Snyder, was an appealing sort of father, and his two TV sons - are reasonably competent actors. The show may turn good in time if it gets better scripts and keeps up the good scenery. Last night's scheduled outing costarred the beautiful beach country near Monterey, Calif.

"Swiss Family Robinson" is based on the classic shipwrecked-family novel by Johann Wyss, although ABC calls the show "Irwin Allen's Swiss Family Robinson" because Irwin has adopted Irwin is the man who gave us "The Poseidon Adventure," a big-screen disaster film. With "Swiss Family," he has a small-screen film disaster.

Martin Milner, fresh from "Adam-12," is stranded as head of the Robinson clan, which includes one parrot, one wife, three kids, and an old, bearded salt, played by Cameron Mitchell. You know Mitchell is an old salt because when a typhcon starts whispering through the palm trees, he rasps to the kids, "Mates, we better batten down the hatches. There's a big blow comin'.

Prior to the big blow, we learn that Fred, the oldest child, has been afraid of water ever since he nearly drowned during the shipwreck he can't forget.

He keeps having daymares about almost drowning but overcomes his fear to save his kid brother from doom on the family raft.

I know it's a family show and not much is required of it, but "Swiss Family" is so child-like in writing, acting and production it gives infantile a bad name.

Economic forecasts disagree

NEW YORK (AP) — Is inflation coming under control? Evidence that nobody knows is contained in the Advisers, maintains the inflation rate history of forecasts, which over the past decade have been lamentably inaccurate on this subject.

And the suggestion that one guess is as good as another is suggested by the amazingly wide range of opinions even among professionals who, like fortune tellers, earn good money for their alleged farsightedness.

Guaranteed by the famous Keepsake Certificate . . . your assurance of perfect clarity, precise cut and fine white color.

Alan Greenspan, chairman of the President's Council of Economic will simmer down by next spring, and that the annual rate of inflation for 1976 would be about 7 per cent.

Even that rate, however, would hardly indicate that prices were under control, and Greenspan himself concedes it would be "by no means acceptable." No, not when we used to think that 3 per cent was too much.

The irrepresible Pierre Rinfret. whose opinions sometimes have been solicited by the White House and by political candidates, as well as by his regular big business clients, is a bit more cynical.

"Hope for the best, prepare for the worst. That's the strategy for 1976," Rinfret writes in his current "confidential" advisory.

"How do you protect yourself against inflation?" he asks rhetorically. "By raising your prices by more than the inflation rate," he answers, explaining that for a decade "the major mistake has been to believe inflation would dis-

In the view of the National Association of Purchasing Management, the business recovery is under way but "an unwelcome return of price increases gives cause for concern."

But not all surveys of purchasing agents indicate a fear that inflation might undermine the recovery. The highly regarded magazine Purchasing World makes this unqualified declaration:

"Everybody is worried about prices except buyers.'

John O'Connor, editor, conducted two surveys and reached the conclusion that "the people who actually pay the bills for their companies' supplies of goods and materials don't buy the economic doomsday prediction.

O'Connor observes that many sellers are maintaining high list, or book, prices, but are quoting actual prices much lower. He suggests that the government indexes, which are based on list prices, are thereby distorted.

Well, who do you believe? Searching for an answer one is eventually directed to the consumer, the final buyer, the final arbiter of prices, the ultimate decision maker. If the consumer is pessimistic he probably is so for good reason.

When the consumer believes his income will be sufficient and prices stable and the job market healthy, he is said to have confidence. Remove one of those factors, such as his belief in stable prices, and his confidence

The Sindlinger & Co. household survey was consulted in an effort to determine whether consumers were confident - that is, whether they thought prices and other economic factors were in their favor.

As of the final week of August they were divided 50-50, precisely, "a rare point when the ceaseless push-pull battle within the consuming public was at a total standoff."

In dispute with board of education

Greenfield teachers set deadline

emergency meeting held Sunday night, members of the Greenfield Exempted Village Education Association acted on several items stemming from a dispute between the teachers association and the Greenfield Board of Education.

Teachers established Sunday, Sept. 21 as the deadline for resolving the dispute.

The dispute arises from the board of education's action last Thursday of making amendments and deletions to a board of review report which had earlier been accepted by teachers.

Greenfield School District teachers have charged the board of education with making unilateral changes without prior warning or any attempt to reach a mutual agreement with

By a unanimous vote, the association directed president John Baal to invite all members of the Greenfield Board of Education to a "face-to-face meeting"

During an with the teachers to discuss and hopefully resolve the dispute.

"All of the 95 teachers who attended last night's meeting are anxious to meet with all board members as soon as possible so this crisis can be mutually resolved," Baal said. "However, teachers are not going to simply bow to the board's unilateral changes. Teachers feel that a fair and equitable settlement can be reached if the board is willing to compromise," Baal stated.

The meeting, which was attended by all but a few teachers in the Greenfield School District, began with a report from Baal concerning the complete background of the crisis. He also explained that there had been no response from any board member or from the superintendent to the association's offer to meet to resolve the dispute.

Various alternative actions were discussed during the meeting without any being eliminated.

Baal stated that board members

The One-Minute Get Well. 36¢ or less.

Hello there stranger.

Why Jack, how are you?

The question is, how are you? Heard you won't be bowling for a while.

A one-minute out-of-state long distance call can mean so much, and it costs so little.

After 5 pm, a one-minute out-of-state directdialed call is only 36¢ or less.

Why, compared to writing and sending a letter, it's faster, easier and so much more personal.

Of course, if you want to say more than get well, it's even a better bargain. Because each additional minute is less. Making a 10-minute visit as far as California just $2.70, plus tax-it's even less after 11 pm, all day Saturday and until 5 pm Sunday.

So keep our handy After-Five Calling Card handy. For saying get well. Or happy birthday. Or (1) Ohio Bell thank you Or anything thank you. Or anything.

Patriots strike alone

By The Associated Press

Sympathy abounds among National Football League players for the New England Patriots' lonely strike stance. Whether it can be turned into real support in the next 48 hours will likely determine the outcome of the players' latest rebellion.

The Patriots, in a show of solidarity, voted to strike and forced the cancellation of their Sunday exhibition against the New York Jets in the belief that others would follow their demand that NFL owners and the players' union reach agreement on a new labor contract.

The followers did not materialize over the weekend and now the Patriots face a lockout by management if they attempt to resume practice Tuesday for this weekend's NFL opener against Houston.

Team after team announced Sunday they supported the Patriots. The St. Louis Cardinals even voted 30-16 to strike, but decided that vote was not strong enough and went ahead with their exhibition game against Denver, which the Broncos won 21-17.

"We do not enjoy this task which we have taken upon ourselves," said Randy Vataha, player representative for the Patriots, who voted 39-2 to strike. Vataha, holding a news conference in a restaurant parking lot in Foxboro, Mass., Sunday, called on the other 25 NFL clubs to join the Patriots on the strike line.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Those typical MAC game-good, old-fashionnew kids in the league are taking turns leading the early Mid-American Conference football race.

It's Ball State this week after the Cardinals made their debut with a rousing 38-28 success Saturday over Toledo, one of the old guard.

Another expansion school, Central Michigan, tumbled from the No. 1 spot to second place after settling for a 6-6 standoff with Ohio University. That put Ball State at 1-0-0 and Central Michigan at 1-0-1. However, the expected contenders, defending champion Miami (Ohio), Bowling Green and Kent State, have yet to play their first 1975 conference games. Miami tuned up for a big date at Michigan State this week, clobbering Marshall 50-0 for the Redskins' 24th game without defeat.

In other nonconference activity Saturday, Western Michigan dropped its second straight decision 27-21 to Akron, Eastern Michigan squared its record at 1-1 in beating Indiana State 30-7, Kent State salvaged a 31-29 triumph over Northeast Louisiana, Bowling Green edged Brigham Young 23-21, and Northern Illinois fell to Long Beach 24-7. Ohio's Gary Homer and Raid Savich of Central Michigan traded two field goals each, which made Bobcats' Coach Bill Hess unhappy. "We didn't come all the way here for a loss or tie. We expected to win," snapped the Ohio

Roy Kramer, Central Michigan's coach, "We couldn't establish our inside running game and couldn't maintain consistency. It was a

Francisco Giants and the Cincinnati Reds are both thinking of the future, but there is a difference — the Reds' is only two weeks away.

Manager Sparky Anderson needs five victories to break the Cincinnati record of 102 set in 1970, but he's also resting his players for the National League baseball playoffs beginning in two

The Giants, meanwhile, are thinking toward 1976 and beyond. Manager Wes Westrum proved that Sunday by giving rookie right-handers Rob Dressler and Greg Minton their first major league starts in a double-header split with the Dressler, 21, worked six and onethird innings of the opener, allowing two runs and not figuring in the decision as the Giants rallied to a 4-2 victory. Minton, 24, pitched six shutout innings in the second game after yielding a three-run homer in the first during the Reds' 8-3 romp.

"They both have great arms and are great prospects," said Westrum. 'Dressler is more of a sinkerball pitcher with a good slider. He has good control and keeps the ball down. Minton is more of the over-powering type.'

Anderson was similarly impressed. 'Every time I look up, the Giants are throwing a new pitcher at us," he said. "The two kids look pretty good. I've said all along the Giants should be very tough in the future because of their good, young pitching."

The split gave Cincinnati a final 13-5 advantage over the Giants this season. The Reds are idle today, but San Francisco hosts Atlanta in the opener of a three-game series tonight.

Home runs by Dave Rader and Steve Ontiveros on successive pitches by Gary Nolan, 139, in the seventh inning cracked a 2-2 tie and gave the Giants the victory in the opener. Dave Heaverlo, 3-1, was the winner in relief, retiring the last seven Reds.

Darrel Chaney's three-run homer in the first got the Reds going against Minton, 0-1, in the second game. Pat Darcy, 10-5, was the winner as Cincinnati broke it open with five runs in the eighth, including Dan Driessen's two-

The Reds, who have 98 wins, begin a two-game series at San Diego Tuesday night. Anderson is encouraged that Johnny Bench's bruised ankle isn't as serious as originally feared. The ankle was injured in a game here Friday night, and Anderson says the slugger should be ready for action by Thur-

Wake Forest overcomes problems

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

Part of the problem in trying to recruit football talent to Wake Forest University is that it's located in Winston-Salem, N.C., and most flights require a change of planes somewhere along the way.

'We've never recruited a player who had to change planes to get here," Coach Chuck Mills observed following last year's dismal 1-10 record.

Saturday's 30-22 upset of 15th-ranked North Carolina State and the airlines may schedule a few more direct flights. Jerry McManus ran 11 yards for one touchdown and passed eight and 29 yards to Bill Millner for two more scores as the Demon Deacons posted the biggest surprise in an early-season rash of upsets.

The first full-scale weekend of the season also included Memphis State's 31-20 shocker of seventh-ranked Auburn, South Carolina's 23-17 triumph over a Georgia Tech club that was rated the South's best independent, Tulane's 17-13 victory over Clemson in the losers' "Death Valley" backyard, Northwestern's 31-25 upset of Purdue. Rice's 24-7 decision over Houston and Texas-Arlington's 24-7 surprise of Texas Christian.

Most of the top teams came through unscathed. Oklahoma's defending national champions, No. 1 again in The Associated Press ratings, swamped Oregon 62-7, runner-up Michigan throttled Wisconsin 23-7, thirdranked Ohio State stifled No. 11 Michigan State 21-0 and No. 4 Southern California rolled over Duke 35-7.

Missouri, rated fifth following last week's 20-7 battering of then secondranked Alabama, was idle while No. 6 Nebraska edged Louisiana State 10-7, No. 8 Texas A&M shaded Mississippi 7-0 and No. 10 Penn State trimmed Stanford 34-14. Ninth-ranked Notre Dame meets Boston College tonight at Foxboro, Mass., in a nationally

In the Second Ten, No. 12 Texas walloped Colorado State 46-0, No. 20 Tennessee downed No. 14 Maryland 26-8, No. 16 UCLA crushed Iowa State 37-21 and No. 19 Florida mauled Southern Methodist 40-14. Alabama, Arizona and Pitt, ranked 13th, 17th and 18th, respectively, were not scheduled.

Wake Forest and N.C. State were tied But a few more victories like 14-all at halftime but McManus' first touchdown pass to Millner put the Deacons on top for good in the third period. In the fourth quarter, Bob Hely kicked a 32-yard field goal and

But it's really not.

Because when you add up all the features that are standard on a Rabbit and optional on a Pinto, plus all the features you can't even get on a Pinto, you come to a startling conclusion.

The Rabbit is not only a better engineered car.

It's a bargain at the price

The Rabbit has front-wheel drive. Like an Eldorado and a Toronado.

The hatchback on a Rabbit is standard. On a Pinto, it's extra.

You should also listen to the experts. Popular Mechanics called the Rabbit "The Best Value For 1975" and Road and Track named it "The Best Sedan Under $3500."

But test drive the Rabbit yourself. It's really the best way to tell what they leave out of a Pinto to make it so cheap.

RAREST SHELLS FOUND IN STOMACHS OF FISH GREENVILLE, Del. (AP) -Some of the world's rarest seashells come from the bellies of fish. Enterprising collectors are finding the most-prized specimens by catching and opening shell-eating fish in South Africa, the Philippines and Brazil, according to Dr. R. Tucker Abbott, a conchologist - shell scientist - at the new Delaware Museum of Natural History here. A report on ex pisces (out of fish) mollusks appears in "Kingdom of the Seashell," a book written by Dr. Abbott. It reveals that shells removed from the stomachs of fish have brought an estimated $20,000 from collectors over a fouryear period. Many of these ex pisces specimens are obtainable only from fish predators because they live in in-accessible shallow-water places Rare cone shells are often eaten by fish. These specimens include Glory-of-India, the Glory-of-Bengal and, perhaps the rarest of all ex pisces shells, the Du Savel Cone.

Exercise with High Blood Pressure?

Are people with high blood pressure allowed to exercise? Mr. C.V., Fla.

Dear Mr. V.: Sensible exercise is now prescribed for people who have had a heart attack. So certainly people with high blood pressure can, with proper conditioning, embark on a course of moderate exercise. An interesting sidelight of the beneficial aspects of exercise is the fact that patients with high blood pressure were shown to have a distinct lowering of the blood pressure when exercise was carefully planned and gradually increased.

Another interesting finding showed that there was a reduction of the triglycerides, or fatty substances, in the blood after well-regulated exercise.

The psychological and physical benefits of exercise are great for people with conditions is a good idea to have the like hypertension. It removes the feeling that they are chronic invalids and helps to create a reveal the reason for a slow or sense of well-being.

Of course, it must be restated that anyone with high blood the rate of growth can often be pressure, or one who has suf- stimulated. fered a heart attack, should empark on an exercise program with approval of the doctor. Specialists in exercise programming can now test the cardiac reserve of a person and plan a safe program for healthful exercise.

Is it possible to predict how tall a young child will be as an adult?

Mrs. B.J., Va. Dear Mrs. J.:

With normal health and good nutrition, the family pattern of height is often a good guide to the probable height that a child will attain.

It is said that a boy at 27 months and a girl of 20 months will have reached half of their adult height.

It is also said that a boy of 9 and a girl of 7 have reached about three-fourths of their adult height.

There are, of course, variations of this rule that occur particularly with hormone imbalance and inadequate nutrition.

When children do not seem to have attained a height close to those in the same age group, it problem investigated. In many instances, hormone studies impaired growth.

Then, with specific hormones,

This deal occurred in the match between Australia and the U.S. in the 1971 world championship.

It is easy enough to determine what West should lead at trick two - if you see all four hands - but the actual West, Bobby Wolff of Texas, did not have that advantage. He had to choose between playing a diamond at trick two - which would cost him the contract if South had some such hand as:

ing to a diamond. Wolff guessed wrong, even though he knew from East's play of the six that declarer had the only missing club, when he cashed the ace of clubs before switching to a diamond. Had he led a diamond at trick two, five spades doubled would have gone down one.

Declarer was Norma Borin, one of the few women ever to participate in the Bermuda Bowl world championship, and she played the hand to perfection to make the contract in grand style.

She won the diamond with the ace, ruffed a club, played a heart to the ace and ruffed another club, establishing the J-9 as tricks. Now, after ruffing a heart low in dummy, Mrs. Borin led the ten of spades and finessed after East had followed

She next led the jack of clubs from dummy, thus accomplishing East's destruction. Whether or not he ruffed, Mrs. Borin had the contract in tow, as she would be able to dispose of her diamond loser in either case - either immediately or eventually. It would not have helped East to cover the ten of spades with the king because, in that event, Mrs. Borin would

Frazier allegedly became loud and began cursing when officers investigated the disturbance. He was assisted inside the station and arrested for disorderly conduct.

Beef raisers eye Japan

WASHINGTON (AP) - New interest is being shown in Japan as a growth market for U.S. beef as the result of new import quotas set by the Japanese government, the Agriculture Department said today.

Japan banned beef imports, except to fulfill existing contracts, in Feb. 1974. But soaring beef prices for Japanese consumers early this year resulted in new quotas being authorized since June to help make up a deficit estimated at 90,000 metric tons.

The department's Foreign Agricultural Service said U.S. representatives in Tokyo have undertaken steps for the promotion of American beef in hopes of obtaining a larger share of what they see as a developing market.

U.S. beef sales to Japan have been a recent development in themselves, rising from 707 tons in calendar 1972 to 11,260 in 1973. Last year, with most of it shipped before the import ban, U.S beef shipments were 6,071 tons. During the first seven months of 1975, including the carryover from prior contracts not affected by the ban, shipments were
